

What does the word, 'Inclusion', mean to you? Can you give an example of how you have experienced inclusion at our school?

you should include people and not leave them out

The word inclusion means to me when you include people regardless of their background or protected char

Girls can play football, not just the boys.

not excluding people that are not the same gender race or religion.

not excluding people that are not the same gender race or religion

we make ourself heard

It means ton invite people play no matter their differences

we dont litter IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE have respect for people and treat them how u would like to be treated when your friends are mean to you and other people try to include you we dont leave anyone out because of who they love, their gender, or what their religion it means everyone should be treated the same stand up for people

it means you need to include everyone.

It means ton invite people play no matter their differences

being included in things rather than leaving people out.

Accepting people and their different personalities.

everyone is involved

When people include you in activities you want to try

To include people in a friend group

I think inclusion means treating people fairly even if they are black or a girl.

we protect others from being bullied its okay to make mistake because you learn from them

it means you need to include everyone.

for everybody to work togheter and not exclude each other

being included in things rather than leaving people out.

Accepting people and their different personalities.

we consider everyones opinions

we work as a team to make everyone feel equal girls and boys play to gether

People are accepted no matter who they are. A way we have experienced inclusion at our school is the inclusion ambassadors.

the word inclusion means to me including people no matter what there protected characteristics are work together to stop pollution

it means everyone should be equal in the world everyone should b treated the same no matter who they are

We care/include for everyone no mater what race, gender or what their protected characteristics may come to be. :)

Inclusion is where you include everyone no mater what gender they are or what religion they are it means everyone will be treated the same.

Everyone is included

i think about how others feel and don't leave them alone

we treat eachother the same dont sit and play or watch your phone all day

girls and boys play football together

At playtime when someone is left out and another group of people let them join their game.

inclusion means you include people into most things you do

We do not bully anyone because of their characteristics

no one should be left out

we dont leave anyone out no matter who they love who they are or their race

If someone has a disability, they are not left out.

Inclusion means to me that everybody is equal no matter what they look like or gender or disabilities or any other protective charaterists

How would you describe the diversity at Lower Park School? What makes our school a diverse place to learn?

I would describe the diversity at lower park as good because there is lots of people with different characteristics such as race,gender,age,disability and religion and sexuality

At lower park we respect everyone no matter where they are from or what they look like.

I think we are very diverse and we include every one no matter what their differences.

Everybody has different protected characteristics but we treat them the same. We are all different in some way.

everyone is different and everyone respects that.

We learn about different religions in RE.

We include everyone who is lonley

we respect everyone

We think that diversity at Lower Park is very mixed given the area we live in.

At lower park we accept everyone no matter of race gender sexuality.

We get to learn about different cultures and get to play and we respect all people.

everybody has differences but we all acceparte that we make sure everybody feels included and welcome.

we respect and learn about different cultures and religions.

we try to understand peoples feelings and thoughts.

we take notice of the world around us; climate change, the Ukrainian War, etc.

we work as a team

we keep on trying and learn from our mistakes when faced with a challenge.

We learn about the protected characteristics we learn about different cultures and religions so we can respect them.

we take action to help make the world a better place.

Include everybody.

We accept apologies when people give them.

We learn about different religions

We learn about the Windrush generation

Do you think our school does a good job at celebrating different cultures and backgrounds? If not, what suggestions do you have to help improve this?

Yes, because we learn about the Windrush and about how treating the people who came from the islands differently is very unfair. We also learn about many different religions in RE

i think lower park primary school treats everyone the same no matter that persons background or appearance

yes because we have inclusion ambassadors yes because if anyone is disrespected the deal with it.

They do because we learnt about to treat different cultures and religions equally, like people without different cultures and religions.

yes, we do a selection of religions in RE and celebrating peoples beliefs.

:be kind to people

I think its good but we could do a pride celebration.

:be a kind person

World Languages day

Yes, but to spread the word all around school we think that it would be lovely to have a culture week. In this particular culture week each day would be a workshops about Yes because we learn different things in RE.

yes but i think the school could celebrate a bit more cultures

yes because we learn about diferent things different cultures around the world.(please do not move the one on top, thanks) yes because of the ambasatours/school councilers

we respect other people with different gender and race

What can we do at Lower Park to make sure everyone feels included and valued? Can you think of any specific changes that would create a more inclusive and equal school?

let everyone join in games make sure to listen to other views and don't ignore anyone

let people join your games

do more pe

we could have different ways of teaching. For example: Learning outside, using different websites, ect be kind to people and include them with your games

more lessons outside

put aside all are differences

be fair with one another

include others

we could learn more languages not just french

Don't exclude anyone even if you don't like them.

care for others

let other speak if they have a game

include other people

put birdfeeders outside

we could have a more clear friendship bench and if you see someone on it you have to see if they are okay

do more pe and daily mile and running activities included everyone

play big games so everyone can play

Make an even number of boys and girls in the house teams.

make everyone feel included and don't leave anyone out IF & BK include everyone

be fair
